WRESTLING IN LYNCHBURG

Lynchburg, June 23.- Women wrestlers, paired into teams for the first time in Lynchburg, will hold the spotlight in City Armory's weekly wrestling program on Saturday night.

Appearing in the first female Australian tag team match to be held here will be four of the country's top women grapplers, all of whom are familiar to Lynchburg fans because of past appearances.

Gloria Barattini, of Baltimore, the slender brunnette who has a big Lynchburg following, and Judy Glover, another crowd pleaser, are pitted against a pair of girl villians, blonde Mae Young and titan-haired Betty Hawkins.

The girls will battle it out over a 60-minute route unless one of the teams scores a pair of falls.

Only one other match is on the card, but it also is et on a best of three falls affair with an hour's limit. Biz John Tullos, somewhat subdued after warnings from the State Athletic Commission in Virginia and a suspension in several other states, goes against Jack Witzig, a star in his own right.

Action on the card begins at 8:30.

Wheat Referendum To Be Held June 25th

A minimum price support for the 1956 wheat crop of not less than $1.81 a bushel, national average, has been announced by the Department of Agriculture, according to C. S. Rush, chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The announced minimum support rate will be in effect in the commercial wheat states if wheat growers approve marketing quotas in the referendum on June 25. Virginia is a commercial wheat state.

The price announcement followed an earlier statement by the Secretary of Agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson, that the minimum 1956 wheat support price would be established before the marketing quota referendum. With this announcement, wheat growers have all the necessary facts before voting in the referendum.

The announced minimum support for 1956 refelcts 76 per cent of the estimated "transitional" wheat parity price of $2.38 per bushel. The support level is set in accordance with the law which provided for a variable level on the basis of the estimated supply of wheat. The minimum national average rate of $1.81 per bushel for 1956-crop wheat will not be reduced but will be increased if a combination of the wheat parity price and the supply percentage on July 1, 1956, indicates a higher minimum level of support.

If two-thirds or more of the wheat growers voting in the wheat marketing quota referendum on June 25 approve, marketing quotas will remain in effect for the 1956 crop and price support will average not less than $1.81 per bushel to growers in the commercial wheat states who do not exceed their farm wheat allotments. When quotas are in effect the producer who exceeds his farm wheat allotment — if he has more than 15 acres for harvest — will be subject to a marketing quota penalty of 45 per cent of parity on the excess production. Wheat from a farm on which the allotment has been exceeded is not eligible for price support.

If more than one-third of the growers voting in the referendum disapprove, marketing quotas will not be in effect and price support will be available at 50 per cent of the transitional parity price, or about $1.19 a bushel for those farmers who stay within their farm acreage allotment. Those who exceed their farm wheat allotment will not be eligible for wheat price support.

Urge 'Safe and Sane' July Fourth Holiday

Almond Rules Voters Must Go Into Booth

Any person who votes in person must "retire to the voting booth" when casting the ballot. Such is an opinion by Attorney-General J. L. Almond, of Virginia.

This opinion will do away with a practice used in this county in cases where one of the election judges would take a ballot to the car to vote a person who because of age or physical condition could not go to the voting booth. This has been true at the court house precinct, where it is necessary to climb the high court house steps to vote and some semi-invalids could not do so.

Commonwealth Attorney George Abbitt wrote to Mr. Almond and asked for a ruling. His question was: "If a voter is able to ride in a car to a point near the election polls, but is unable to walk is it lawful for the judges to permit the voter to vote in the car?"

The Attorney General referred to the election laws of Virginia, and stated that such a person would have to vote by mail. He said, "I am unable to find any statute authorizing the casting of a vote in the manner suggested in your letter. Section 24-245 of the Code requires a voter who goes to the polls to 'retire to the voting booth' when marking his ballot. Obviously a person who remains in his automobile while in the vicinity of the polls would not be able to meet this requirement. I am of the opinion that, under present statutes, the only method by which a person may cast a ballot outside the voting booth at the polls is in accordance with Code 124-319." (Absent voters section).

Wheat Yielding Good Harvest

Farmers are harvesting one of the best wheat crops in recent years, and report excellent prospects for corn. Tobacco has gotten to a good start and pastures are the best for several years. Contrary to the dry seasons of 1953 and 1954, there has been adequate rainfall so far this year. Major disappointment is the failure of the peach crop.

The Fourth District, American Legion Department of Virginia, held its Spring Conference at Appomattox on Sunday, June 26. There was a joint meeting held between the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary at the high school cafeteria. Miss Eloise Couch presented her oration on which she won recognition this spring in the American Legion sponsored oratorical contest. The joint session was also addressed by the Honorable Watkins M. Abbitt, at which time he recognied and commended the efforts of the American Legion through its National Security Program.

No special events are planned, but most business places will be closed for the day. It is expected that there will be a season record crowd at nearby Holliday Lake, where atendance has not been too great thus far. *

It is presumed that the work will proceed on the pipeline project out of Appomattox.

Employees of the Appomattox Garment Co., Inc, begin their annual vacation Friday afternoon, being off next week.

An appeal is made for careful driving.

Richmond, Va., June 29.- Looking with anxiety towards the forthcoming 78-hour holiday week-end, Col. C. W. Woodson, Jr., Superintendent of State Police and chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, pled today with the motoring public for the proverbial "Safe and sane" Fourth of July.

"Fifty years ago," he said, "the mishandling of fireworks took such a toll that strict laws controlling their use were enacted everywhere. Now, the automobile has taken their place with a vengeance and to those interested in preserving lives on our streets and highways a holiday weekend means nothing but a Roman holiday of needless bloodshed."

Col. Woodson announced that Virginia, participating in the national "Slow down and live" program, was one of 16 states which saw more traffic deaths during the Memorial Day week-end than for the same holiday in 1954. Last year, he said, the Fourth of July week-end which, for official tabulation, also ran 78 hours, saw seven deaths and this was considered a very good record. However, it is not a score that cannot be substantially bettered.

Indicating that every available State Trooper would be on the road, Col. Woodson stated without reservation that the usual unrelenting and impartial enforcement could be expected However, he was quick to add that wholesale arrests, as necessary as they might be, were distasteful and that voluntary observance of regulations is the aim of every traffic officer.

"Remember," he said, "every single one of the 616 people who died in Virginia traffic last year, went to his death thinking "it can't happen to me' and that is the potential victim's most fatal philosophy."
